General Instructions :

- (1) Attempt all questions.
- (2) Write in a neat and legible hand.

1. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below it : 20

What's the use of stories that aren't even true ? Haroun couldn't get the terrible question out of his head. However, there were people who thought Rashid's stories were useful. In those days it was almost election time, and the grand panjandrums of various political parties all came to Rashid, smiling their fat-cat smiles, to beg him to tell his stories at their rallies and nobody else's. It was well known that if you could get Rashid's magic tongue on your side then your troubles were over. Nobody ever believed anything a politico said, even though they pretended as hard as they could that they were telling the truth. (In fact, this was how everyone knew they were lying.) But everyone had complete faith in Rashid. Because he always admitted that everything he told them was completely untrue and made up out of his own head. So the politicians needed Rashid to help them win the people's votes. They lined up outside his door with their shiny faces and fake smiles and bags of hard cash. Rashid could pick and choose.

Amalkanti

Nirendranath Chakrabarti

Amalkanti is a friend of mine,
we were together at school.
He often came late to class
and never knew his lessons.

When asked to conjugate a verb,

.....

.....

That we all felt sorry for him.

Some of us wanted to be teachers,
some doctors, some lawyers,

Amalkanti didn't want to be any of these.

He wanted to be sunlight — the timid sunlight of late afternoon,
when it stops raining

and the crows call again,

the sunlight that clings like a smile

to the leaves of the jaam and the jaamrul.

Imagine yourself to be a classmate of Amalkanti. You have met him after thirty odd years in your capacity as District Medical Officer (DMO) of the government hospital in your town. Amalkanti has visited the hospital for treatment of his eyes. Complete the conversation that might have happened between the two with close reference to your reading of the poem :

DMO : Next patient please.

Amalkanti : (hesitating at the door) Namaste doctorsahab.

DMO : Take your seat. (he looks up and finds the face familiar.) You are Amalkanti.... Amalkanti Guha. Are you the same Amalkanti who studied with me, in Beldanga High School ?

Amalkanti : Yes, but how did you know ?

Miser's Final Wish

There was a man who had worked all of his life and had saved all of his money. He was a real miser when it came to his money. He loved money more than just about anything, and just before he died, he said to his wife, "Now listen, when I die, I want you to take all my money and place it in the casket with me. I wanna take my money to the afterlife."

So he got his wife to promise him with all her heart that when he died, she would put all the money in the casket with him.

Well, one day he died. He was stretched out in the casket, the wife was sitting there in black next to her closest friend. When they finished the ceremony, just before the undertakers got ready to close the casket, the wife said "Wait just a minute!" she had a shoe box with her, she came over with the box and placed it in the casket.

Then the undertakers locked the casket down and rolled it away.

Her friend said, "I hope you weren't crazy enough to put all that money in the casket."

She said, "Yes, I promised. I'm a good Christian, I can't lie. I promised him that I was going to put that money in that casket with him."

"You mean to tell me you put every cent of his money in the casket with him ?"

"I sure did," said the wife. "I got it all together, put it into my account and I wrote him a cheque."
